Berni Gallery, Jersey Arts Centre

Monday 12th June 2006
5.30 to 7.00 pm

To be opened by
Robert Tilling MBE RI

In this collection of paintings local artist Catriona explores the geology of the Island by studying different rock formations, ranging from the caves at Plemont to the rocky coastlines on the north of the Island. Catriona has been influenced by the way rocks can work almost like mirrors capturing and reflecting the environment that surrounds them.

Working predominantly in acrylic on canvas she portrays these abstract formations and the vibrant contrasting colours found within them.
